A Time For Thanks And Giving

Whether you celebrate Hanukkah, Christmas, Kwanzaa, Thanksgiving or another meaningful tradition in November and December, this time of year inspires generosity and reflection. It also reminds us that many of our neighbors face financial challenges that make it difficult to access nutritious food.

In our cities there are hundreds of children, seniors, disabled and low-income families that do not have enough food to live a healthy life. Many of them rely on local food pantries for food distribution and these distribution centers rely on local volunteers and donations to continue helping these neighbors in need. Maybe you have a few hours a week to help distribute food or while you're at the market, pick up a few extra items to donate.

Many supporters clean out their pantries during the holidays and donate shelf-stable items. Most food banks gladly accept safe and unopened food.

If you're at the market and can pick up a few extra items, here are some things that are always needed at food banks:

Proteins: Peanut butter, canned chicken, tuna, salmon, and canned or dry beans.

Grains & Bases: Rice (especially white or brown rice), pasta, and whole-grain cereals.

Cooking Essentials: Cooking oil (canola or olive oil), flour, sugar, salt, and basic spices.

Family & Kid-Friendly: Shelf-stable boxed milk, oatmeal, applesauce, and 100% fruit juice boxes.
Baby Supplies: Diapers and infant baby formula.

Personal Care: Shampoo, conditioner, soap, deodorant, toothpaste, and toothbrushes.

Money Donations

What many people do not realize is that a financial donation can make an even greater impact. It helps food banks source fresh produce, lean proteins, and healthier pantry staples that are not always available through donated goods.

Here are a few local Pantries in Ventura County. Stop by, check them out and ask how you can help.
